Foreword

Within the pages of this volume we have attempted to feature the Handley campus, realizing how unusually beautiful it is. We have described the organizations and personalities which have kept it ever alive. It is our hope that we have also, in some measure, captured the spirit which has given value to our otherwise meaningless activities. But beyond this we cannot go. We have merely set the stage; the memories with which you people it must be your own.

DEDICATION . . .

to WITHROW R. LEGGE

In a book whose theme is the Handley campus it is both natural and fitting that the dedication should be made to the man who is responsible for much of its planning and its beauty. Nor are we insensible to the fact that we are at the same time honoring one of the finest members of our faculty—one whose responsibility it is to instruct students in the complexities of modern farming. We feel that he has succeeded not only in teaching facts, but also in instilling something of the reverence for the soil and for growing things which makes agriculture the great profession that it is. And so, without further preface, we take pleasure in dedicating this, the eighteenth volume of the HANDLIAN, to Withrow Reynolds Legge.

Class Poem

This be our creed:
May we hold sacred truth and peace,
May Justice in our hearts increase
With every word.

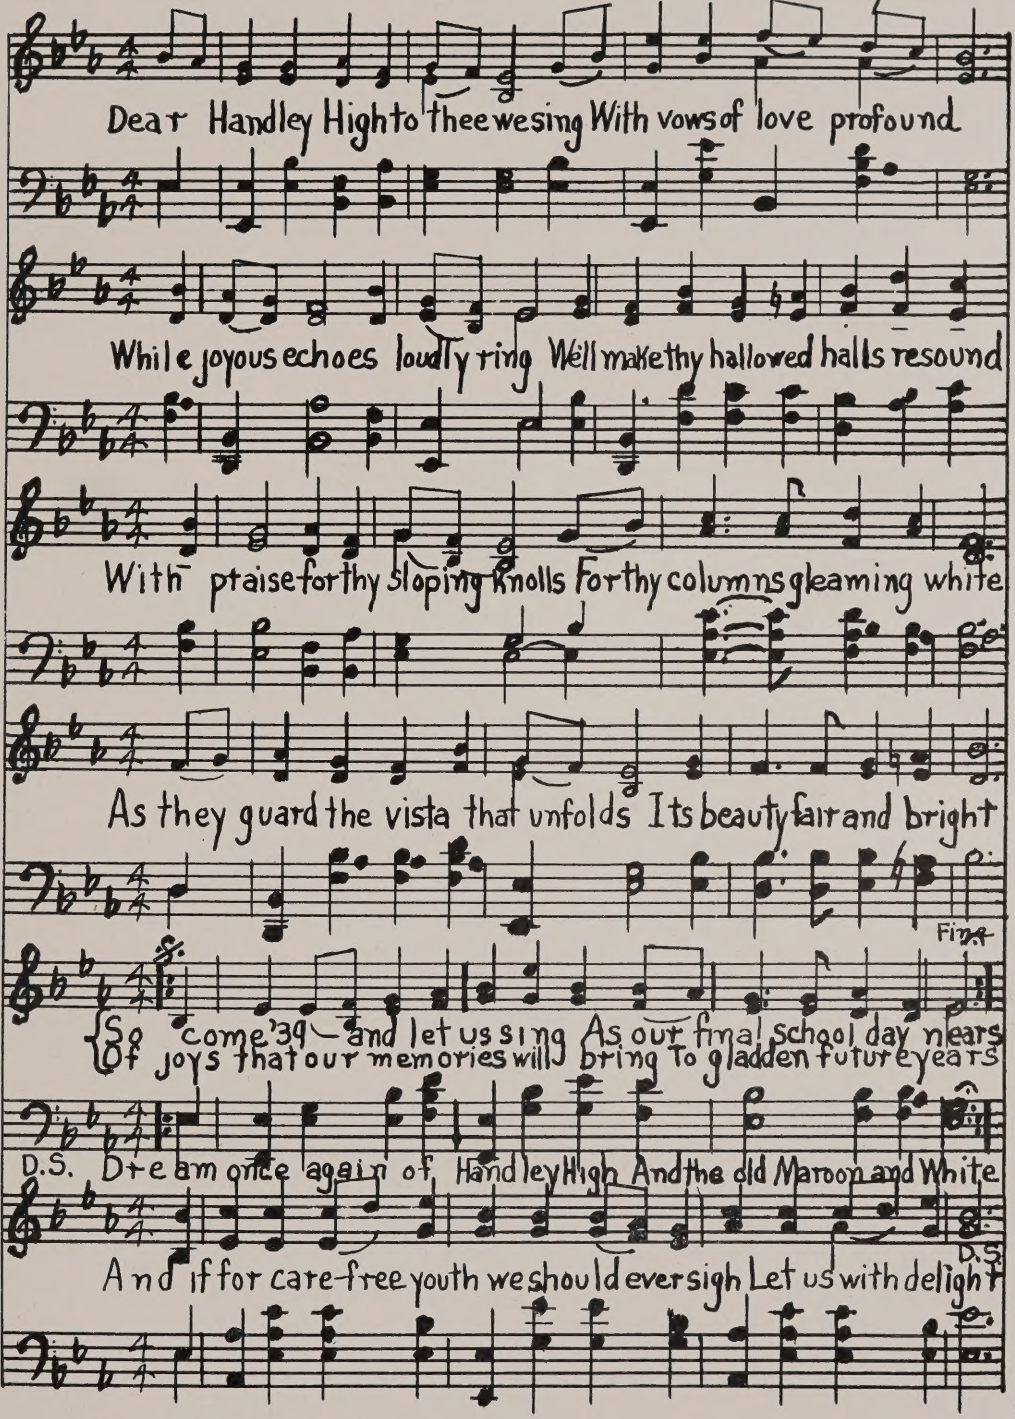
This be our song:
May we stand off from madmen's fight,
But eager be to spend our might
To right the wrong.

This be our power:
The strength that lies in honest pride,
The strength to build and not deride
From hour to hour.

CLASS SONG

C.J.

Courtney Jones



Dear Handley High to thee we sing With vows of love profound
While joyous echoes loudly ring We'll make thy hallowed halls resound
With praise for thy sloping knolls For thy columns gleaming white
As they guard the vista that unfolds Its beauty fair and bright
Fine
So come '39 — and let us sing As our final school day nears
Of joys that our memories will bring To gladden future years
D.S. Dream once again of Handley High And the old Maroon and White
And if for care-free youth we should ever sigh Let us with delight
D.S.

Class History

"Ah! those good old days." That's what we'll be saying pretty soon, wishing we were back at dear old Handley. Whenever nostalgic melancholy seizes you, turn to these pages and review the brilliant career we have had at Handley.

Do you remember our first real public appearance in the "Taming of the Shrew" in the eighth grade? You will also probably remember the delight with which the "shrew", Jane Jackson, seized the opportunity of giving Melvin Estes a blow on the head. Since that first play, the class of '39 has demonstrated unusual interest and ability in dramatics.

Do you remember how important we felt when we organized for the first time in February, 1937? We elected Mrs. Peery and Mr. Joyce as our sponsors; Ray Robinson, president; Bill Sullivan, vice-president; and Shirley Williams, secretary-treasurer.

Activities in the Sophomore year were confined mostly to learning parliamentary procedure, and doing odd jobs at Commencement for the Seniors.

In our more active Junior year, we elected the following officers: Ray Robinson, president; Tom Whitham, vice-president; Shirley Williams, secretary; and Jimmie Brooks, treasurer. Scarlet and white were chosen as our class colors, with the scarlet rose as our flower.

In the fall of '37, we were busy selling hot dogs, candy, and soft drinks at the football games.

We sponsored our first party in the Spring of '38. Soon after that we presented the Junior Play, "Love In Bloom". From the proceeds of this play, and money from our stands at the football games, we financed the most important project in our Junior year, The Junior-Senior Prom. This gala affair was managed by a large committee from our class. Before we disbanded in June, we elected our Editor-in-chief and Business Manager for the HANDLIAN.

When we returned to school in September, the publishing of the HANDLIAN with all its problems became our chief worry.

Then the Senior Play, which is fully described in this volume, claimed our attention.

Our class will probably be remembered for its audacity in changing some of the traditional procedures at Commencement. "We" first dared to eliminate Class Day exercises on Wednesday and the outside speaker for Graduation Night. We obtained permission to have complete charge and be the "whole show" when we received our diplomas.

The class of '39 has contributed to all phases of life at Handley. Our athletes will be sorely missed on future teams. We have always had our share of representatives on the State Literary teams, State Latin and French Tournament teams, and in Lee Poetry and Art Contests.

The class of '39 can also pride itself on the part it played in furthering student government at Handley. Isabelle Simpson was our delegate to the Virginia Student Government Association in 1938. Members of our class have been prominent in revising the General Organization Constitution, in organizing the Handley Student Court, and in managing the Monitor System.

Although we proudly enumerate our worth-while achievements and contributions to life at Handley, we realize that we have also made mistakes, and missed opportunities. We hope that the Juniors who succeed us will profit by our errors, and add still more glory to the Maroon and White.

MARGARET HOTT, Class Historian

Class Will

Know ye, all men, by these presents that we, the members of the class of "39", being, we hope, endowed with sane minds, do declare this to be our last will and testament, hereby revoking any former codicils made by us prior to our present advanced state of culture. Through our executors, the members of the life-saving staff of our swimming pool, we now bequeath:

To our sponsors, Mrs. Peery and Mr. Joyce, our sincere appreciation for their forbearance in our many problems, and their invaluable advice which has made our stay at Handley a happy and profitable one.

To the members of our coaching staff, Mr. Ochs, Mr. Maddex and Mr. Sargent, a perfect group of managers who will carry out implicitly and to the nth degree both the orders and the unexpressed desires of these mentors.

To Mr. Joyce, three regular enrollees for his history classes—namely Adolph Hitler, Benito Mussolini, and Neville Chamberlain. With the addition of these new children it is believed that the classes will continue and even improve on their daily debates.

To all the "swing" addicts at Handley, the inclusion of a "jam" session in our next pageant, at which time all the "cats" can get in the groove and "jive".

To Mr. Hale, an insurance policy which will guarantee the success of the experiments which he performs for the benefit of the class. In case of failure the damages shall be paid off in two-hour laboratory periods.

To the sponsors of the forthcoming senior classes, the right to use all of their power to get indolent members of their classes to do a little toward the goal for which every class strives—to publish the best HANDLIAN ever.

To our janitor, Mr. Funk, the grass which shall be mowed from our lawns, in order that he may sprinkle it on the floor of the halls every day before his regular sweeping session.

To Mr. Browning, a complete, indexed repertoire of his own and his "Angels'" accomplishments, with which he may amaze and horrify little girls of rival home-room groups.

To the undergraduates, a number of our dignified seniors who shall assume the titles of post graduates upon the beginning of the next school term. To these the lower classmen may come and receive any assistance that they may desire concerning matters of their class.

To the pupils in the French classes of Mademoiselle Laughton, an automatic translating machine, by means of which they can at least understand the words following the phrase: "Pour la prochaine fois".

To James Brooks, the job as cashier of a large bank.

To John Knight, the subtle method of conducting a class meeting which is employed by "Scoots" Robinson.

Mindful of the fact that the fates are unwinding the thread of life, we, the class of "39", do hereby set our hands and seal this eighth day of June in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred thirty-nine.

Signed: THE SENIOR CLASS

Activities

Executive Council

The Executive Council, whose members are elected by the student body, meets every other Monday to discuss and regulate student activities.

During the past year the most outstanding accomplishments of the Executive Council have been the ratification of a new constitution, the establishment of a Corridor Commission, and the further development of the Monitor System.

The Student Court, the judicial body in Handley's student government, is composed of nine students appointed by the Honorary President of the Executive Council, the principal of the school, and confirmed by the Executive Council. The court was established during the past year to try all violators of the Honor Pledge or the student body regulations, and to determine the constitutionality of laws or regulations of the Executive Council.

Junior Evening Star

The Junior Evening Star, begun in 1933 and published every Monday in collaboration with the city paper, is edited by the Booster Club. A new editor is selected every month while the other members of the club act as reporters.

Besides the editorial, some of the weekly features of the paper are:

The calendar, giving the events of the coming week
Girls' and boys' athletics
Reviews of assembly programs
Reports from the Executive Council and other organizations
News of other years
Current newsettes
Special features such as, "Chatter," "Remember When," and "Inquiring Reporter."

Mrs. Virginia Boyd Barr is the faculty advisor for the paper.

Handley Band

Director
Professor W. H. McIlwee

The Handley band is an organization which we prize for two reasons. First, we prize it for the versatility it shows in playing equally well football songs, marches and the classical music score of the annual pageant. Secondly, we prize it for the opportunity it offers every Handley student with talent and industry to obtain the free use of a musical instrument with free individual instruction.

Track

The '38 track team captained by "Red" Baker was, as were its two immediate forerunners, undefeated through five meets; namely, Massanutten, R. M. A., Martinsburg, Bunker Hill (triangular meet), Va. State, and C. V. A. L. League.

The squad won the State and C. V. A. L. Championships for the fourth consecutive year.

The one-mile relay record fell before their onslaught, and a new one of three minutes, thirty-eight seconds was established.

As we go to press, Coach Sargent and Manager C. Jones predict an excellent team for '39 that will live up to the reputation of its predecessors.

In Appreciation

It has been our custom for several years to give special recognition to advertisers who have cooperated with Handlian staffs over a long period of years. This Honor Roll is published, not for the purpose of exerting pressure in the sale of advertising space, but for the purpose of showing our sincere appreciation to old friends. We realize that without their continued support we could not publish our yearbook in the form that it is now produced.

The system of starring used in the advertisements is:

★	Representation from two to five years
★★	Representation from six to ten years
★★★	Representation from eleven to fifteen years
★★★★	Representation for more than fifteen years

IT'S BLACK
AND WHITE—
AND, READ ALL OVER!

It is no riddle, it is a fact! Frederick County folk have been depending on the Star for more than 40 years and it has never failed. They read every column of every page because it carries ALL the news of interest to them.

You have been reading the Junior Evening Star because it was of interest to you—news of Handley. Now, begin reading every page of the Star. Each day you will find something new and interesting.

And, if you go away to school or work, have the Star sent along. It will prove to be a daily letter from home.
